Synopsis: Twenty-something sisters Kate and Lisa are gorgeous, fun-loving and ready for the holiday of a lifetime in Mexico. When the opportunity to go cage diving to view Great White sharks presents itself, thrill-seeking Kate jumps at the chance while Lisa takes some convincing. After some not so gentle persuading, Lisa finally agrees and the girls soon find themselves two hours off the coast of Huatulco and about to come face to face with nature's fiercest predator. But what should have been the trip to end all trips soon becomes a living nightmare when the shark cage breaks free from their boat, sinks and they find themselves trapped at the bottom of the ocean. With less than an hour of oxygen left in their tanks, they must somehow work out how to get back to the boat above them through 47 meters of shark-infested waters.

Synopsis: Anna is stuck: she's approaching 30, living like a hermit in her mum's garden shed and wondering why the suffragettes ever bothered.

She spends her days making videos using her thumbs as actors - thumbs that bicker about things like whether Yogi Bear is a moral or existential nihilist. But Anna doesn't show these videos to anyone and no one knows what they are for.

A week before her birthday her Mum serves her an ultimatum – she needs to move out of the shed, get a haircut that doesn't put her gender in question and stop dressing like a homeless teenager. Naturally, Anna tells her Mum to BACK THE F-OFF.

However, when her school friend comes to visit, Anna's self-imposed isolation becomes impossible to maintain. Soon she is entangled with a troubled eight year old boy obsessed with Westerns, and the local estate agent whose awkward interpersonal skills continually undermine his attempts to seduce her.

This is a story about confronting the things we are most scared of – a story that explores the universal themes of being lost and finding yourself, making peace with who you are, and regaining self-confidence and dignity.

It is basically the same themes as ROCKY if you think about it. But with thumbs. And a cowboy. And no boxing.

Age Of Kill

Cast: Martin Kemp, Patrick Bergin, Dexter Fletcher, Nick Moran
Genre: Thriller
Director: Neil Jones
Status: Completed

Away

Cast: Timothy Spall, Juno Temple, Matt Ryan, Hayley Squires, Terry Stone, Susan Lynch

Genre: Drama

Director: David Blair

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Joseph and Ria are both looking for a way out. Joseph wants out of this life; struggling to come to terms with his wife's death, he just wants the pain to end. Ria needs out of this town; parentless and penniless she tries hard to protect her younger sister Kaz from the evils of life including Ria's abusive drug dealing ex-boyfriend Dex who has now set his sights on Kaz.

Both have one destination in mind: the bright lights of the coastal town of Blackpool. For Joseph it is a fitting place to commit suicide – a favoured destination for he and his wife where they had competed in numerous ballroom dance competitions; for Ria it is a place of safety to make a fresh start far away from Dex and all he represents. Risking everything Ria makes her escape, but it is not long before a furious Dex catches up with her. Just when there seems no hope, Joseph accidentally interrupts the violent scene and decides to intervene. Seemingly this is a heroic deed of valour, but to Joseph it is a pathetic suicidal act of a middle-aged man with a death wish. Seeing Joseph as her knight in shining armour, Ria tags along with him to Blackpool – something Joseph regards as more than a minor inconvenience as Ria repeatedly manages to foil Joseph's attempts to end his life. An unlikely friendship blossoms as both begin to see in the other something that has been missing from their own lives. But Dex is never far behind and it is in Blackpool their fates must inevitably intertwine and meet a violent conclusion.

Bobby

Cast: Pele, Paul Gascoigne, Franz Beckenbauer, Russell Brand, David Beckham, Ray Winstone

Genre: Documentary

Director: Ron Scalpello

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Bobby explores the remarkable true story of English footballing legend and World Cup Winning Captain, Bobby Moore.

A footballer, a father, a cultural icon and a footballing legend, Bobby Moore was a hero to successive generations of footballers and football fans alike, described by Pele as the best defender he ever played against. At the height of his fame, not only did he captain his country to victory at the 1966 World Cup, but alongside icons such as The Rolling Stones, renowned photographer David Bailey and Sir Michael Caine, he helped spread the influence of British culture across the globe. From huge success on the field for both his country and his beloved West Ham United, to personal tragedies away from football – including overcoming a cancer at aged just 24 - Bobby tells in intricate detail just how this legend became a global sporting hero. A man full of contradictions, he was renowned for his love of a drink and a party, yet his stoicism, courage and single-minded approach to both his life, and his football, was second to none. Bobby will feature exclusive interviews with family members who knew him best, plus icons including Pele, Wayne Rooney, Roy Hodgson, Paul Gascoigne, Gordon Banks, Sir Geoff Hurst, with Russell Brand, Ray Winstone and more. It will also feature previously unseen match footage that has been unearthed following an intensive year-long search, including from that 1966 World Cup Final! With the 50th anniversary of England's famous World Cup win approaching, there has never been a better time to explore and reappraise the impact of a man who influenced and inspired the beautiful game like few others.

The Bookshop

Cast: Emily Mortimer, Patricia Clarkson

Genre: Drama

Director: Coixet Isabel

Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries.

Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town.

Synopsis: "Bridgend" follows Sara and her dad, Dave as they arrive to a small village in Bridgend County. The village is haunted by suicides amongst its young inhabitants, and Sara falls dangerously in love with one of the teenagers, Jamie while Dave as the town's new policeman tries to stop the mysterious chain of suicides. The film is an uncompromising story focused on the relationship between vulnerable teenagers and their parents who are left in the dark as the inexplicable suicides gradually take on the character of a punishing ritual.

The story of the film is based on a mysterious suicide cluster that took place in Bridgend County, a small former coal-mining province in Wales. Between 2007 and 2012 seventy-nine suicides were committed in the area. Most of the victims were teenagers, they hanged themselves and left no suicide notes. Danish documentary filmmaker Jeppe Rønede followed the teenagers from the area for six years and wrote the script based on their life stories. Bridgend is Rønede's fiction film debut. It is entirely shot on location in Wales, with many of the local teenagers casted as actors.

Synopsis: Arizona, 1877. A beautiful young wife and mother watches her world go up in flames and her young son felled by an errant bullet. Desperate for money for a life-saving operation, Mae falls back on skills learned as the daughter of a rancher, raised to fight cattle rustlers. She throws herself into the dangerous, male-dominated world of Bounty Hunting, risking her life to raise the cash she needs.

When a gang of Outlaws rob the bank of Grace, taking a fortune in gold coins belonging to the US Government, Mae finds herself teamed up against her better judgment, with Cavalry Captain Fortune Ardana.

Mae's dark past will unravel as the two battle an unforgiving landscape, cocky gunslingers, the ever-present Apache threat, and each other in their pursuit of the gang and the gold. But there are secrets everywhere, and the two will soon discover that the enemy they know might not be as dangerous as the allies they trust. All roads lead to Burnside - a hell-hole smuggler's town with a lawless reputation - as the parties converge for a monumental showdown.

Synopsis: Chuck Norris vs Communism takes place in the 1980s, when the Communist regime in Romania was more brutal and extreme than any of the Soviet Nations. Hidden from the scrutinising eyes of the Secret Police, Irina Nistor dubbed over 5,000 foreign blockbusters that entered Romania illegally, smuggled in by the mysterious entrepreneur Toader Zamfir. A sprawling horde of American films was unleashed into Romanian homes featuring everything from Megaforce and Bloodsport to Taxi Driver, from Ninja Death Squad and Fist of Fury to Brazil, from low-budget slasher films to Hollywood blockbusters. Irina's voice became a symbol of freedom, Chuck Norris, Van Damme and Bruce Lee became national heroes and the whole country found a way to subvert a brutal regime.

Creditors

New Morning Films

Cast: Christian McKay, Andrea Deck, Ben Cura, Tom Bateman, Simon Callow, Ania Sowinski

Genre: Comedy

Director: Ben Cura

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Grant Pierce (Christian McKay) arrives from London into Madrid, Spain, hoping to be given the chance to meet his favourite painter, American Freddie Lynch (Ben Cura), who is currently staying at a private hotel in an unassuming location outside the city. As Grant steps into the main building of 'El Madroño', he troublingly finds Lynch a crippled man whom, he soon reveals, has been unable to actually paint for the better part of a year.

As the two men get to know each other under the watchful eye of one of the owners of the hotel, Michael Redmane (Tom Bateman), they start to piece together the disturbing picture of Freddie's marriage to beautiful writer Chloe Fleury (Andrea Deck) which harbours secrets that will reveal much more than Freddie's recent creative emaciation and clearly defined obsession with her ex-husband.

Based on August Strindberg's 1888 play, 'Creditors' is a modern re-telling of Strindberg's story of love, betrayal, revenge and psychological manipulation, which he considered to be his one true masterpiece.

At times disturbingly funny and cruelly bleak, 'Creditors' deals with the most private aspects of human relationships. From questioning our concepts of marriage and fidelity, to trying to establish the role of the modern woman in a world still trapping her within the confines of old fashioned canons, the film's story stirs, moves and sometimes even angrily rebuts our very own personal definitions of each.

Cuban Soul

MC Film Consultants

Cast: David Soul

Genre: Documentary

Director: Greg Atkins

Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: Of the many mysteries swirling around Cuba, there's one that has captured the imagination of cubaphiles, auto-enthusiasts, and dreamers: What happened to Ernest Hemingway's car? Exactly fifty years after the Nobel-prize-winning author departed Cuba - his home for 22 years - his long-lost 1955 Chrysler New Yorker convertible has finally been found, derelict and near to ruin. Cuba's vast repository of classic American automobiles is synonymous with the surreal and sensual nation, and Hemingway's much sought-after vehicle is potentially the most valuable and important of them all.

The story is a fascinating insight into contemporary Cuba - an irresistible yet much-misunderstood Communist island of eccentricity, eroticism, and enigma, in which Hemingway is considered a national treasure and baseball is the national sport... serving alongside the beloved Detroit classics - from creaky Cadillac taxis to Chevrolet Impalas with fins sharp enough to draw blood - as ambassadors of an abiding affection that still binds the two nations together.

Synopsis: An English mother and her teenage son spend a week packing up the contents of their remote holiday house in the South of France. Fifteen-year-old Elliot struggles with his dawning sexuality and an increasing alienation from his mother, Beatrice. She in turn is confronted by the realization that her marriage to his father, Philip, has grown loveless and the life she knows is coming to an end. When an enigmatic local teenager, Clément, quietly enters their lives, both mother and son are compelled to confront their desires and, finally, each other.

DEPARTURE is an intimate story beginning at dawn on the first day and ending at night on the sixth, charting the end of a summer, the end of a childhood and the end of an otherwise nuclear, middle class family.

Synopsis: Law student and all round good guy, Harper, suspects that his scheming step-father, Vincent, is responsible for the car crash that sent his mother into a coma. Drowning his sorrows one evening in a seedy L.A whiskey bar, Harper is interrupted by a tough looking redneck called Johnny Ray who offers to "take care" of his step-dad for the cool sum of US$20,000. Angry, intent on revenge and fuelled by alcohol, Harper agrees to the deal and spends the rest of his evening downing shots with Johnny Ray. The next morning, Harper awakes to the mother of all hangovers with hazy memory of the previous night's events. Answering a knock at the front door, he is surprised to find Johnny Ray and his beautiful but distant girlfriend, Cherry, ready and waiting to drive to Vegas to kill Vincent. Harper's claims that he was drunk and didn't know what he was doing mean nothing to Johnny Ray who is more threatening than ever in the cold light of day. Harper quickly realises that there is no easy way out; if he wants to survive this, he has no choice but to go along with the plan.

What follows is a tense and deftly constructed noir thriller in which Harper's story takes an unexpected detour, presenting the audience with two alternate versions of events with two very different outcomes. Did Harper really want to kill his step father and which road did he actually take?

Dreams Rewired

Genre: Documentary
Director: Manu Luksch
Status: Completed

Synopsis: DREAMS REWIRED traces the desires and anxieties of today's hyper-connected world back more than a hundred years, when telephone, film and television were new. As revolutionary then as contemporary social media is today, early electric media sparked a fervent utopianism in the public imagination – promising total communication, the annihilation of distance, and an end to war. But then - as now - there were fears over the erosion of privacy, security, morality. Using rare - and often unseen - archival material from nearly 200 films to articulate the present, DREAMS REWIRED reveals a history of hopes and betrayals.

Faction II

Genre: Science-fiction
Director:
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: What if there was no such thing as fate? What if it was all planned for us? Would you fight for your future? This is a story of a group that does. It's a story of the Human Race.

Helena was born into a cursed family, however, she is blessed with a gift that can reverse it. She crosses paths with two strangers who start her on a journey of reversing the curse and it leads her to immense good but profound evil.

Set in the future, in a region once known as Bavaria, two ancient monarchies are feuding for control over the land, power, and resources. Water is scarce, and is now bought and sold as a commodity. Most have perished. The stakes are so low that survival is a daily struggle. In some ways, humankind has evolved but in others it has also degenerated. In order to save the future, they must visit the past.

The strangers possess an old quatrain which reveals the future is more than fate and that life is not just chance. Their plight to stop the degeneration where gold, water, and human lives serve as commodities that control society culminates to a prophetic battle which may lead to not only her death but to that of humankind.

Synopsis: Charlie and James are in love. They're just starting out their lives together with no responsibilities when Charlie discovers she is pregnant. In a moment of youthful abandon they decide to keep the baby.

Into their world comes Thea - a beautiful little girl, a goddess, the perfect addition to their newly-formed family. But it soon becomes clear that her arrival has brought with it things that are beyond their understanding. Thea is a bright shining beacon who is attracting the supernatural entities that exist all around towards her - and into their lives. Reluctantly, they enlist the help of James' estranged father, Alastair, a dilapidated amateur spiritualist. Charlie and James begin to realise they must dedicate themselves to keeping their daughter safe.

As Thea grows into a young girl, the once playful entities that crowd around her become increasingly violent, vying for her attention and threatening her innocence. With Alastair out of his depth, he turns to Elizabeth, an occult practitioner of great power who teaches Thea to control, rather than be afraid of, the dark forces around her. But Charlie sees her daughter is changing; Thea's newfound confidence unleashes something far more malevolent and terrifying than they have ever encountered.

Synopsis: A spirited but wayward group of youths loaded up with drugs set out in a borrowed Black Cab to attend an epic music festival weekend. Tragedy strikes down a country lane when they accidentally run over a young nurse riding her bicycle.

Distraught and still high on drugs, the lads panic when they see the body lying in the road. An argument breaks about what to do with the severely injured girl and how the police would react to what they had done. The debate is brought to a swift and brutal end by one of the lads already on his 'second strike' with the law who attempts to seal the girl's fate with a swift kick to the head. Events spiral out of control as the nightmare takes hold of their senses.

Returning to their regular lives, the lads' collective guilt for what happened that day looms over them; as one by one each of them is lured to a terrifying death grislier than the last. With the police seemingly powerless to help, retribution comes calling for the guilty and the lads discover there is no such thing as an innocent party.

Genre: Thriller
Director: Jeremy Dyson
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Phillip Goodman, professor of psychology, arch-sceptic, the one-man 'belief buster' – has his rationality tested to the hilt when he receives a letter apparently from beyond the grave. His mentor Charles Cameron, the 'original' TV parapsychologist went missing fifteen years before, presumed dead and yet now he writes to Goodman saying that the pair must meet. Cameron, it seems, is still very much alive. And he needs Goodman to find a rational explanation for three stories that have shaken Cameron to his core. As Goodman investigates, he meets three haunted people, each with a tale more frightening, uncanny and inexplicable than the last. Goodman's carefully maintained rational world starts to dissolve around him - a trick of the mind or are darker forces at work?

Gradually Goodman is pulled towards the unearthing of a long-buried secret, concealed in his own deepest darkest past and on the other side of that, a hidden truth more terrifying still, that will pull his life - and everything that's gone before - apart.

Welcome to the unforgettable world of GHOST STORIES.

Genre: Science-fiction
Director: Colm Mccarthy
Status: Completed

Synopsis: The near future; humanity has been all but destroyed by a mutated fungal disease that eradicates free will and turns its victims into flesh-eating "hungries". Only a small group of children seem immune to its effects.

At an army base in rural England, this group of unique children are being studied, subjected to cruel experiments by biologist Dr. Caldwell. Despite having been infected with the zombie pathogen that has decimated the world, these children retain normal thoughts and emotions. And while still being subject to the craving for human flesh that marks the disease these second-generation "hungries" are able to think and feel making them a vital resource in the search for a cure.

The children attend school lessons daily, guarded by the ever watchful Sergeant Parks. But one little girl, Melanie, stands out from the rest. Melanie is special. She excels in the classroom, is inquisitive, imaginative and loves her favourite teacher Miss Justineau.

When the base falls, Melanie escapes along with Miss Justineau, Sergeant Parks and Dr. Caldwell. Against the backdrop of a blighted Britain, Melanie must discover what she is and ultimately decide both her own future and that of the human race.

Synopsis: THEIR FUTURES WERE STOLEN BY THE BANKS. NOW THEY'RE STEALING THEM BACK!

Having fallen foul of the pension crisis after 50 years of law-abiding, tax-paying citizenship, retired couple Martha (Virginia McKenna) and Arthur (Bernard Hill) are forced into an unexpected life of crime in this star-studded British comedy heist caper.

Martha and Arthur refuse to accept this rip-off. The plan is simple – the financial industry has stolen their hard-earned pensions, so they're going to steal them back, at the same time helping friends who are down-on their-luck, and saving their social club from destruction.

Towing their Caravan behind their trusty Rover, they map out a crime route around England - that just happens to take in a host of beautiful old stately homes along the way. As they bumble their way through a succession of bank robberies, dressed in masks and armed with cucumbers as guns, this unlikely criminal duo feel a new surge of life running through their veins as the cash piles in! But, with the police hot on their tails, and the auction of their beloved club looming, our grey-haired heroes persuade their closest friends to join them in an attempt to pull off the heist of the century!

Hampstead

Cast: Diane Keaton, Brendan Gleeson

Genre: Social issues

Director: Joel Hopkins

Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Hampstead Village, London. Famous for its beautiful and much-loved Heath – a piece of quiet countryside in a vast metropolis. Living on the edge of the Heath is American widow, Emily Walters (Diane Keaton), who can't quite focus on the things that need attention, like her lovely old apartment, her finances and even her son. Despite encouragement from her close friend Fiona, she doesn't want to admit that she's drifting through life without much thought to her future. One day while looking out across the Heath from her attic window, Emily spies a ramshackle hut, which appears to be inhabited by an unkempt man. She witnesses him being attacked by a group of professional thugs. Shocked, she calls the police and watches, through her binoculars, as help arrives. The next day she ventures into the woods in search of the man.

Donald Horner (Brendan Gleeson) has lived quietly and harmoniously on the edge of the Heath for 17 years but now his lifestyle is under threat - his home is the target of property developers who've started using heavy-handed tactics to remove him. When Emily introduces herself, he is naturally suspicious and politely thanks her but rebuffs her attention. Despite his gruff exterior, there is something gentle and alluring about Donald and when Emily discovers that Fiona is leading a community initiative in support of the developers, she bravely steps up to take Donald's side in the escalating battle, determined to defend the emotional and physical livelihood of this quiet but unusual man - who has grown to trust her and who - despite his situation, just might be the man to sweep her off her feet.

Inspired by a true story, Hampstead is a charming and funny life-affirming tale about how love can be found in the most unexpected places and proves once and for all that age is no barrier to second chances.

Hating Peter Tatchell

Genre: Documentary

Director: Chris Amos

Status: Development

Synopsis:

Filmmaker Chris Amos seeks out to find out why the UK's leading human right activist Peter Tatchell was for decades a public hate figure and is still today targeted with hate campaigns and smears by the far right and far left.

Over the past decade, Peter has gone from being one of the most despised public figures in Britain to one of the most loved. Despite this, there are still those who oppose him.

Hating Peter Tatchell charts his 50 years of human rights activism and the immense personal price he has paid: violent assaults, hate mail and death threats.

This film documents his triumphs and tribulations, which have impacted British politics and the politics of other countries including Russia, Zimbabwe and South Africa. It includes challenges to, and encounters with, Tony Blair, Robert Mugabe, Mike Tyson, the African National Congress leadership and successive Archbishops of Canterbury.

This is the true story of overcoming adversity and of incredible personal achievement: how one man can bring marginal human rights issues into the mainstream to create change.

Synopsis: April 2015: Britain's most high security safe deposit vault is hit; a meticulously planned, multi million pound job that nets the criminals a fortune in cash, jewellery and bonds. The worldwide media waits for a breakthrough on the case with baited breath concocting multiple theories about who was responsible: a crack team of international criminals? Ex- Mercenaries? The Mafia? Contortionists? Within a few short weeks news breaks that the police had arrested a group of pensioners, retired criminals with a combined age of 483. The least crack team imaginable. But, somehow, with no weapons and no violence, they had pulled off the unthinkable. The media dubs them 'The Bad Grandads', washed-up, career criminals who had been undone by the proverbial "one last job". A final heist to set themselves and their families up for whatever life they had left. But behind the sensational headlines, a darker story emerges. Rumours throughout the criminal community are that a solitary safety box was the actual target inside the vault. A box containing evidence incriminating a major UK crime family. Just weeks later, a suspect is shot dead at his home by unknown assailants. The press dub the whole affair 'a Gentleman's crime', and the world views it with a mixture of reverence and dismay. Yet the story is far from over. With one mystery assailant still at large, and speculation rife within the underworld, The Hatton Garden Job isn't quite ready to give up all of its secrets.

Synopsis: Joe, a young ticket-collector, is riding the last train out of London on a dark and stormy night along with a meager bunch of passengers. When the train brakes violently and comes to a sudden halt deep in the middle of a forest, it seems they have hit something on the line. But when the driver ventures out to investigate he never returns, leaving the passengers in a state of panic – particularly when Joe sees the driver's mutilated body outside the carriage.

Realising there's something dangerous lurking in the forest, Joe tells the passengers to make barricades to secure themselves in the carriage but soon the deadly creature is stalking the besieged train and smashing through their defences, picking them off one-by-one. Joe rallies his 'pack' of passengers to fight back. During a vicious battle they manage to kill the creature, revealing it to be a hideous mutated fusion of human and wild animal - a werewolf. However, celebrations are cut short when they hear more howls coming from the forest...

Genre: Historical

Director: Mark Cousins

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Creative documentary done in a style unique to Mark Cousins – a visual, poetic depiction of Belfast and its citizens, told with love and passion of someone, who has left the city many years ago but is still fascinated by it. The film personifies Belfast and portrays it as an experienced gentle, older woman (played by Helena Bereen), who has seen, and accepted it all. She leads the viewers through the changing landscape Belfast and spins a tale of its history, while addressing philosophical questions about the nature of man and about a city as an urban phenomenon. Themes brought up in the film range from the landscapes surrounding the city, its changing architecture and social structure to the political and personal repercussions of the Northern Irish conflict.

Synopsis: Dracula. The name invokes the same common images: coffins, crucifixes, sharp fangs, blood. In literature, film and television the man as a monster has seduced people all over the world with his story of murder and blood lust. Whilst it is well-known that Bram Stoker based his fictional Count on a Fifteenth Century Romanian prince, what happened to the Dracula line afterwards is unclear. Among the people in Romania cashing in on the Dracula dollar there are some who claim to be the descendants of the historical vampire. Though no direct lineage is known to exist, how close can we get to the bloodline of the original Count Dracula? I am Dracula investigates the history and bloodline of the real Dracula, Wladislaus "Țepeș" ("The Impaler") Drakulya, a "voivode" or elected-prince who ruled Transylvania in the Fifteenth-Century. The documentary concerns itself with two families that claim ancestry from the "Draculesti": primarily that of Princess Brianna Caradja and of celebrated neuroscientist Professor Constantin Bălăceanu-Stolnici, both in Romania. Whilst exploring the lineage of both parties the documentary will also question whether the bloodline is more important than the name, and whether lineage outranks heritage.

Genealogical historians have proved that Dracula's two direct lines of ancestry – one Hungarian, one Romanian – both died out by the end of the Seventeenth Century; a third, indirect female line can be traced for a further century, but there are no direct descendants from there onwards.

Indirect or unrecognised, I am Dracula explores what it is like to be associated with the name and history of Vlad the Impaler; what it means personally, and within the wider scope of a world in which Dracula is both familial and famous.

I Am Duran

Synopsis: A veteran of 119 professional bouts across four weight levels, Duran fought in an astonishing five decades. He was a world champion by the age of 21 and fought some of the greatest boxers of all time: Hagler, Sugar Ray Leonard and Hearns to name a few. Durán obliterated all comers. His style began to pack out venues as crowds were seduced by his raw, explosive and instinctive fighting style. He was a fighter, a brawler and a warrior, and the fans loved him. A one man wrecking ball, away from the ring he transcended sport and inspired his beloved Panama to rise toward independence from American control and a CIA funded dictator. I am Duran is the definitive story of this incredible man, his career and legacy, and how he became a hero, an icon, and an inspiration to successive generations.

Synopsis: In the wake of Steve Strange's and David Bowie's deaths, I'm Not Dead! The Birth of the New Romantics meets some of the influential Blitz Kids still alive, whose antics in late '70s and early '80s London defined decades of global fashion, music, art and club culture to follow.

Through combining rarely seen archival footage and candid interviews with core members of the New Romantic movement; including, Boy George, Princess Julia, Judy Blame, Pam Hogg, Philip Sallon, Mark

Moore and Mark Almond alongside interviews with other influential tastemakers including; Grayson Perry, Andrew Logan, Zandra Rhodes and Vivienne Westwood, we revisit the era to reflect on the past and show how this has impacted on their future lives.

We discover the values that drive the New Romantics and find out how these radical elders have carried the creative driving force of their youth into their older age. Their lives, past and now, are not only influential but inspirational. They prove age is just a number when it comes to having an exciting youthful life.

I'm Not Dead! The Birth of the New Romantics is the definitive account of an often glazed over microcosm of the iconic scene which is finally gaining the recognition and acknowledgement for its contribution to modern culture it deserves.

Journeyman

Cast: Paddy Considine, Jodie Whittaker
Genre: Second film
Director: Paddy Considine
Status: Production

Synopsis: Matty Burton is the middleweight boxing champion of the world. Now, coming towards the end of his career, he knows that he must make his money and get out of the game. His aim is to secure a home with his wife Emma, and a future for their baby daughter Mia. His opponent is the brash and controversial Nassar Ali. A big puncher that courts controversy with his outlandish statements. Nassar's intent is to rip the title from Matty, a task that Nassar feels is going to be easy. After a titanic battle, Matty returns home to Emma, but moments later collapses on the living room floor from a delayed reaction to a devastating punch. When Matty awakes from the coma, the real fight begins. Suffering from memory loss and with his personality altered, Matty must begin to piece his life back together as his world disintegrates.

Journeyman is a powerful and beautiful story about loss and, ultimately, triumph. It's about our identity, and how in life we sometimes have to dig deep into our soul to discover who we really are.

Late Shift- Your Decisions Are You

Cast: Joe Sowerbutts, Haruka Abe, Joel Basman, Richard
Durden, Lily Travers
Genre: Crime
Director: Tobias Weber
Status: Completed

Synopsis: 'Late Shift' has its hero, its plot, its high points and turning points. It has one beginning – but countless possible storylines and seven different endings. Matt, a student, has to prove his innocence after being forced into the robbery of a famous London auction house. How will the audience decide to act when everything is turning against him? The audience takes decisions for the interactive thriller's hero while the movie keeps on running seamlessly. 'Late Shift' is the first feature film production in the novel interactive film format CtrlMovie, which offers an exceptional experience in-between film and game. The viewers make decisions for the protagonist, thereby influencing the plot and its ending. The film never stops and the audience is under the same time pressure as the protagonist. Countless storylines can lead to one of seven different endings. One interactive path is approximately the length of a feature film, bearing in mind that there are four hours of film slumbering in the background, with a total of 180 decision points at your disposal. The CtrlMovie technology has been developed by the Swiss start-up company of the same name. 'Late Shift' is based on a screenplay by first time director Tobias Weber and Michael R. Johnson, author of Guy Ritchie's 2009 'Sherlock Holmes' movie from 2009. The film was shot in English in London, featuring up- and-coming actors Joe Sowerbutts, Haruka Abe and Lily Travers as well as the Swiss actor Joel Basman ('The Monuments Men') and the more mature English actor Richard Durden ('From Paris with Love', 'Oliver Twist'). This time you leave the theatre knowing that if you watched the movie again, you could see a different story. What if you're dissatisfied with the consequences of the audience's collective decisions? Then, in the form of the app, the protagonist's fate is in your hands alone. It is up to you to discover countless variations of the same plot and make "better" decisions.

Synopsis: Presented in astonishing 4K 3D, and offering full theatrical 3D and 2D features, 3D and 2D TV hour versions, and a full feature and cut-down version for IMAX, Le Mans 3D tells in incredible detail, the full story of the 2015 race.

Widely recognised as one of the closest and most thrilling events for many years, we follow six drivers and their teams as they put everything on the line in the pursuit of victory.

Australian F1 favorite, Mark Webber, is racing for Porsche. A solid career is already secured, but he has so far failed to finish Le Mans in four attempts. Making one last push for true racing immortality, Webber recalls two life threatening crashes at this very track early in his career. As he travels to the race, he recalls how many more times he can roll the dice...

The undisputed 'King of Le Mans' is Germany's, Andre Lotterer. Racing for Audi, the four-time winner is used to fighting off pretenders to his throne, but this year, will the hunter become the hunted?

Racing for rookie team, Nissan, 23 year-old Brit, Jann Mardenborough got his big break by winning a PlayStation driving competition three years ago. But, having already been touched by tragedy when his car flipped and killed a spectator at a warm-up event earlier this year, he has the weight of the world, and the expectations of a multi-million dollar team, on his shoulders.

Meanwhile, 2nd generation Le Mans participant and lead Toyota driver, Sebastien Buemi, from Switzerland, prepares for the race by restoring a classic car and reliving the glory days of Le Mans with his grandfather, whilst in England, Aston Martin driver, Darren Turner, prepares to bid his young family an emotional farewell.

And finally, racing in the privateers section is a brand new Chinese team, LMP2 Pegasus, represented by Chinese drivers David Cheng and Ho-Pin Tung. They represent a fresh dawn for Le Mans as the legendary race expands into previously untouched territories.

Le Mans 3D - the inside story of men who are willing to risk death, again and again, in the hunt for glory on four wheels.

Life On The Road

Cast: Ricky Gervais, Doc Brown
Genre: Comedy
Director: Ricky Gervais
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: David Brent is now a rep selling cleaning products up and down the country. The thing is he has never really given up the dream of being a rock star, and in this documentary movie we follow his one last shot at fame. We find out what he's been up to since his days at Wernham Hogg and we follow him on the road trying to get a record deal. He puts a band together (a group of mercenary session musicians taking his money with absolutely no love for him or his dream) and ropes poor Dom (a rapper who he was meant to be managing) into coming on tour with him to give him a bit of credibility. Let down after let down, faux pas after faux pas Brent never gives up his dream... just his hard earned money and a cashed in pension to fund the whole folly. With original music by the man himself Life on The Road is like a comedy musical. It's exciting, funny, excruciating and a little sad.

The Lovers And The Despot

Genre: Documentary
Director: Robert Cannan
Status: Completed

Synopsis: They were the Brangelina of '70s South Korea—the romance between the debonair film director Shin Sang-ok and glamorous actress Choi Eun-hee took them to the heights of South Korean society. Fame took a toll on their love, but it also attracted unbelievable twists of fate. The two find themselves kidnapped by the North Korean regime, and they are forced to play along with a bizarre filmmaking project led by superfan cinephile Kim Jong-il. Enduring torture, imprisonment, and surveillance, their romance is rekindled, and they realize escape is only possible through filmmaking—but the smallest mistake in their plans could cost them their lives.

This film noir of the most twisted order is meticulously crafted with an analog-loving sensibility, offering incredible archive footage of the era that even includes rare clandestine audio recordings of Jong-il discussing his plot for a cinematic paradise. The tapes deliver a chilling yet fascinating glimpse into the psychology of the North Korean dictatorship and what happens when art, love, and megalomania collide.

Maradona

Genre: Documentary
Director: Asif Kapadia
Status: Production

Synopsis: Having never won a major tournament, ailing football giant SSC Napoli had criminally underachieved. Their fanatical support was unequalled in both passion and size. None was more feared. But how they ached for success...

On 5th July 1984, Diego Maradona arrived in Naples for a world-record fee and for seven years all hell broke loose. The world's most celebrated football genius and the most dysfunctional city in Europe were a perfect match for each other. Maradona was blessed on the field but cursed off it; the charismatic Argentine, quickly led Naples to their first-ever title. It was the stuff of dreams. But there was a price... Diego could do as he pleased whilst performing miracles on the pitch, but when the magic faded he became almost a prisoner of the city. The third film from the Academy Award and BAFTA-winning team behind Senna and Amy, the film will be constructed from over 500 hours of never-before-seen footage from Maradona's personal archive and in the style of Senna and Amy, will be a high-end and definitive feature documentary made with the full support of Maradona.

In a city where the devil would have needed bodyguards, Maradona became bigger than God himself. This is the wild and unforgettable story of God-given talent, glory, despair and betrayal, of corruption and ultimately redemption.

Cast: Robert Sheehan, Lily Cole, Joely Richardson, Andrew Tiernan, Jack Fox, David O'Hara
Genre: Thriller
Director: David Blair
Status: Completed

Synopsis: In and out of secure mental units all of his young life; Jack is plagued by persistent visions of ghosts harassing him to resolve their sad and angry issues with the living. Unemployed, dishevelled and trailed by these persistent, unwanted companions no one else can see, he struggles to maintain a normal life.

Jack is helped by his psychiatrist, whose theory is his visions were brought on by witnessing his father's suicide as a boy; and by his caring sister Emma who has recently welcomed him to her own happy and stable home (much to the annoyance of her high flying solicitor husband Martin.)

But after Mark, a journalist is brutally murdered in a local park, he appeals to Jack to pass on one last message of goodbye to his grieving widow Sarah. Jack grudgingly agrees, but his attempts to do so only draw suspicion from the Police and brother-in-law Martin who coincidentally represents Sarah. Constantly harangued by Mark's apparition, Jack uncovers a guilty secret that puts him under yet more police suspicion and stress that finally pushes him over the edge.

Notes On Blindness

Genre: Documentary

Director: Peter Middleton

Status: Completed

Synopsis: In 1983, after decades of steady deterioration, writer and theologian John Hull became totally blind. To help him make sense of the upheaval in his life, he began documenting his experiences on audio cassette. Upon publication, John's diaries were described by author and neurologist Oliver Sacks as 'a masterpiece... The most precise, deep and beautiful account of blindness I have ever read.'

Following the Emmy Award-winning short film of the same name, NOTES ON BLINDNESS takes a creative approach to the documentary form. Actors lip-synch to the voices of the family, embedding John's original audio recordings within compelling cinematography and textured sound design. The result is a poetic and intimate story of loss, rebirth and transformation, documenting John's extraordinary journey into 'a world beyond sight'.

Synopsis: A major new feature film from the celebrated and award-winning director Peter Mullan. This intense family drama is located in the Irish immigrant community in Glasgow in the 1880s. The narrative revolves around the foundation of Celtic Football Club. The club was founded by a member of the Marist teaching order, Brother Walfrid, on an ethos of charity and social commitment. Football was to provide funds to feed the starving children and the unemployed in the east end of Glasgow. 'On another biting cold November in 1887, a hand-written circular was passed around the needy of the area. It stated simply: "A football club will be formed for the maintenance of dinner tables for the children and the unemployed". Eighteen words. Eighteen words that formed the foundation of an institution the world now acclaims as Celtic Football Club.'

From the very beginning Celtic also became a powerful and unique symbol of hope and pride for these despised Irish aliens struggling against poverty and discrimination in an aggressively unwelcoming environment. The already overburdened Irish labouring community turned up in their droves and worked for free to build the club's first stadium. The landlord's extortionate rent demands forced a move to an adjacent site in 1892. The workers did the same again here, building their own field of dreams with their sweat and toil. Visitors to the new ground were so impressed that one journalist, noting the proximity to the Eastern Necropolis, famously commented the move was akin to "...moving from the graveyard into Paradise" - the semi-ironic name for their "holy ground" that was quickly adopted by the community which had established the ambitious and forward-thinking club. The narrative will focus on a family from Donegal struggling to establish themselves in a new environment every bit as challenging as the one they had left.

Synopsis: A QUIET PASSION is a film based on the life and work of the great poet Emily Dickinson. She wrote a poem a day, but only a fraction of her output was published throughout her lifetime. She was extremely shy, but with a wry, lively sense of humour and loved to laugh or to be made to laugh. Her friendships were intense but it was within the family that she found her greatest happiness. Her life is one of quiet dignity. The poetry magnificent. All the terror and beauty of the world distilled down to the quintessence of meaning and expression. She is quite simply one of the world's greatest poets.

The Reef

Genre: Fantasy

Director: Phillip Donnellon

Status: Development

Synopsis: Two brothers Vladimir and Mitja vacation with their mother in a remote seaside caravan park, but the holiday is overshadowed by the accidental death some weeks earlier of Mitya's best friend. As the boys set forth in their varying ways, the world of the campground and a shoreless sea come to life and is given prominence in a way never before seen in either classic works of literature or cinema.

A band of wild beach boys called the Wrecks as each is named after a shipwreck, are referred to locally as beach pirates and are heavily invested in role-playing games. The Wrecks hang around the campground and offer Mitya a way out of the darkness that has been spreading inside him since the recent tragedy. A prominent character is a mysterious blonde teenage girl who like Peter Pan ultimately bears the weight of a great responsibility. Because of her free spirit and seemingly telepathic powers, the Girl has been and continues to be an obsession for many of the Wrecks. Mitja takes extended forays befriending several of the boys who have set up camp on the beach. But this kingdom is not only an adventure playground for vagrants, it is a world of mysticism and magic that increasingly draws Mitja under its spell. When battle lines become drawn Mitya must choose between loyalty to his new friends and an impossible love affair. His choice, one way or another, will have huge consequences on the future of his relationship with his brother who has also been enchanted by the Girl's charms.

THE REEF is a linear story about accepting death and letting go, which as well incorporates a number of twists and turns. THE REEF will be a timeless film with a mysticism that is sure to enchant audiences the world over. There is also a mythical element in the storyline about what happens to the children who have left the world and been lost too early in life. The audience will be hooked right up until the last moment when they discover what lays beyond that final cliff.

Synopsis: Hit by a falling object in a freak accident, an unnamed man awakens from a coma with £8.5m in compensation and his memory gone. All that remains is a fragmentary image – a small boy at the top of a stairwell in an old house, reaching out his hand to an old lady on the floor below – which the man physically reconstructs in the hope of triggering a more complex memory. Using his wealth, the man acquires a block of apartments and populates it with actors to play out the scene again and again and again. But as scraps of other memories present themselves and the man becomes ever more desperate to reconnect to life, his re-enactments grow increasingly complicated and risky, leading him to an unsolved crime and the secret of his undoing.

The Summer Of The Goat

Cast: Jim Sturgess, Katharine McPhee
Genre: Comedy
Director: Nick Cohen
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Daniel(32), who has recently lost his brother, leaves London to shoot a half-baked promo for a tiny Greek island. His Greek fixer – Elias (59), has ambitions to present on TV and re-brand Greece. Daniel ends up filming Elias' family, ex-girlfriends, livestock and musings on Greek civilization. Daniel's camera stumbles upon gorgeous Californian Anna(33) singing. The pair have chemistry but Daniel withdraws, learning of Anna's alpha-male fiancée. Alcoholic hellraiser - Don(45) and eccentric painter Mark(40) lead Daniel into mischief – drunkenly storming the hilltop monastery and seducing sexy yoga teacher Erika(29). Urged to express his feelings, Daniel musters courage only to find Anna making wedding plans. Disappointed, Daniel films dramatic coastal cave churches. Anna, upset that fiancée Johnny has forgotten her birthday, accompanies Daniel and empathises, holding his hand. This intimacy is shattered when good-looking charmer Johnny(40) appears, looking to atone with fancy necklace. At the port, the group bid Daniel farewell, including Anna and Johnny. The pair are not speaking, the necklace is gone. They have an explosive row. Anna jumps on the departing ferry; shyly joking that she could sing his soundtrack and quietly adding that she can't say goodbye. The couple kiss as they sail into the sparkling Aegean.

Synopsis: Amer met Ragda, when both were locked up in a Syrian jail for speaking out against an oppressive regime. Twenty years and four sons later, filmmaker Sean McAllister comes into their lives, as Amer is waiting for Ragda, who has once again been imprisoned. When she is unexpectedly released, the family is overjoyed - they need her, particularly three year-old Bob. McAllister and his subjects' lives become irrevocably intertwined when McAllister himself is jailed, and footage of the family is confiscated. Amer and Ragda must flee overnight to Lebanon, with nothing but their children. McAllister follows their story over five turbulent years, as they struggle to find their feet as refugees; Ragda in particular can't bear to be away from Syria in its hour of greatest need. As they watch Syria descend into chaos, they struggle to repair their troubled relationship. A powerful, moving story of family and exile from one of the UK's most talented independent filmmakers.

Status: Completed

Synopsis: Joe and Paddy are members of a private security crew working in the Middle East. They have been assigned to kidnap the daughter of a powerful man as part of a major robbery - a Tiger Raid.

We meet them as they travel through the inhospitable desert on their way to execute the raid. Joe, the older of the two, carries a brutal and unrepentant view of the world, defined by fear and adoration of their invisible but omnipresent boss. Paddy is younger and recklessly ambitious, hungry to progress through the ranks of the crew. Neither man trusts the other as they tell half truths and stories of previous victories in a battle to determine who controls this increasingly volatile situation.

As the raid progresses, deeply hidden truths about both men's pasts are revealed, fracturing their already fragile relationship and forcing them to face up to who they really are in order to survive its violent and shocking conclusion.

Tommy's Honour

Cast: Peter Mullan, Jack Lowden, Ophelia Lovibond, Sam Neill
Genre: Drama
Director: Jason Connery
Status: Completed

Synopsis: In every generation, a torch passes from father to son. And that timeless dynamic is the beating heart of Tommy's Honour – an intimate, powerfully moving tale of the real-life founders of the modern game of golf.

Set in St. Andrews, Scotland during the hidebound Victorian era, the story opens in 1866 as 15-year-old Tommy Morris (Jack Lowden) heads to the links with his father, Tom Morris (Peter Mullan). Already a legend, "Old Tom" is greens-keeper for the Royal & Ancient golf club, where he established the standard of 18 holes per round; as well as the town's club- and ball-maker; and thrice winner of the first major golf tournament, the Open Championship – which he founded in 1860.

Tom Morris has secured his place in the history of the ancient game. But Tommy will soon outshine him, retiring the Open's prize Championship Belt while still in his teens (by winning it three times in a row), and, as the "dashing young man of golf," drawing flocks of spectators to the sport and becoming its first touring pro.

Despite their shared passion, father and son repeatedly clash over the unwritten rules of social class, culminating in Tommy's marriage to a woman of lower standing with a shameful secret in her past. Tommy's beloved wife Meg (Ophelia Lovibond) figures in this true story's climax, as Tom makes a fatal misjudgement that strips Tommy of everything he holds dear. From the ashes of that fateful choice, Old Tom rises to a mission that carries him through the final decades of his life: Honouring Tommy.
