The Bookshop

Cast: Emily Mortimer, Bill Nighy, Patricia Clarkson
Genre: Drama
Director: Isabel Coixet
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Based on Penelope Fitzgerald's novel of the same name; 'The Bookshop' is set in 1959, Florence Green (Emily Mortimer), a free spirited widow, puts grief behind her and risks everything to open up a bookshop - the first such shop in the sleepy seaside town of Hardborough, England. Fighting damp, cold and considerable local apathy she struggles to establish herself but soon her fortunes change for the better. By exposing the narrow minded local townsfolk to the best literature of the day including Nabokov's scandalising "Lolita" and Ray Bradbury's "Fahrenheit 451", she opens their eyes thereby causing a cultural awakening in a town which has not changed for centuries. Her activities bring her a kindred spirit and ally in the figure of Mr Brundish (Bill Nighy) who is himself sick of the town's stale atmosphere. But this mini social revolution soon brings her fierce enemies: she invites the hostility of the town's less prosperous shopkeepers and also crosses Mrs. Gamart (Patricia Clarkson) Harborough's vengeful, embittered alpha female who is herself a wannabe doyenne of the local arts scene. When Florence refuses to bend to Gamart's will, they begin a struggle not just for the bookshop but for the very heart and soul of the town.

Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: Vicky Jewson
Status: Post-Production
Synopsis: Sam is the world's toughest female bodyguard, tasked with protecting high profile targets for terrorism and assassination. She fought her way to the top in a man's world and feels more at home in the war zones of Sudan than back at her L.A. apartment. When she's assigned to protect a VIP in Morocco, she thinks she's in for a quick and easy job. That VIP turns out to be Zoe, a young and very rich heiress who's never left her bubble of wealth and who isn't keen on being baby sat. Sam can take a bullet for a president, but young privileged girls aren't her specialty — especially a spoiled one. When Zoe's bulletproof, secluded compound comes under attack in an explosive kidnapping attempt, Sam's skills are put to the test. Accused of murder themselves, they must find a way to work together, determined to and hunt the attackers and their corrupt employers.

Creation Stories

Cast: Ewen Bremner
Genre: Drama
Director: Nick Moran
Status: Pre-Production
Synopsis: From best-selling British author, Irvine Welsh, Creation Stories explores the life and achievements of Scottish music mogul, Alan McGee. His notoriously hedonistic label, Creation Records, launched iconic bands such as Oasis, Primal Scream, and The Jesus & Mary Chain; standing at the forefront of the Britpop movement, and selling over 60 million records worldwide. It's a story of relentless ambition; mental torment; drugs; bankruptcy; unfathomable wealth; and courting politicians – and of how one written-off young Glaswegian upstart rose to irrevocably change the face of British culture.

Synopsis:	Herb's life is a mess. He's lost his welfare, can't hold a job, can't talk to his son, has a neighbour who won't shut up and a diet that consists mainly of cheap beer and mushy peas. It's no way to live and he knows it. Then he learns from a TV news report that Danish prisoners have it way better than he does: a job, accessible healthcare, the quiet of the countryside, even an HDTV. They're practically living in hotels. He says goodbye (and good riddance) to his dingy flat and smuggles himself to Denmark aboard a cargo ship, landing in a quaint town with everything he needs -- including a bank to rob. But when he meets a friendly local barmaid and a lovable stray dog that won't leave his side, he begins to wonder if prison really is his only chance of a fulfilling life.

Gareth Jones

Genre: Drama
Director: Agnieszka Holland
Status: Pre-Production
Synopsis: 1933. Gareth Jones is a young ambitious Welsh journalist who gained fame thanks to an interview with Hitler, and is now looking for his next big story. The Soviet utopia is all over the news, and he can't help wonder what hides behind the success of Stalin's regime.
He decides to travel to the Soviet Union, in an attempt to get an interview with Stalin himself. There he meets Ada Brooks, a journalist working for the New York Times, who reveals that the truth about the regime's success is being violently repressed. Hearing murmurs of government-induced famine, a secret carefully kept by the Soviets, Gareth manages to elude the authorities and slip into Ukraine, where he witnesses the atrocities of these man-made starvations.
Back in London, Gareth publishes an article revealing the truth about Stalin's regime. But the starvations are quickly denied by Western journalists living in Moscow, all under pressure from the Kremlin. Death threats begin, and Gareth has to fight for the truth. He meets a young author, a man by the name of George Orwell, who he shares his findings with...inspiring the great allegorical novel Animal Farm.

Grace Jones: Bloodlight And Bami

Cast: Grace Jones, Jean-Paul Goude, Sly And Robbie
Genre: Documentary
Director: Sophie Fiennes
Status: Completed
Synopsis: Larger than life, wild, scary and androgynous – Grace Jones plays all these parts. Yet here we also discover her as a lover, daughter, mother, sister and even grandmother, as she submits herself to our gaze and allows us to understand what constitutes her mask. The stage is where her most extreme embodiments are realised and her theatrical imagination lets loose: this is where the musical of her life is played out. The film includes Grace's unique performances singing iconic hits such as Slave To The Rhythm, Pull Up To The Bumper, as well as the more recent autobiographical tracks Williams' Bloods and Hurricane. These personal songs also link to Grace's family life, as the film takes us on a holiday road trip across Jamaica, where her family roots and the story of her traumatic childhood are uncovered.
In Jamaican patois, 'Bloodlight' is the red light that illuminates when an artist is recording and 'Bami' means bread, the substance of daily life. Grace Jones: Bloodlight and Bami weaves together the layers of Grace Jones' public and private life, as she moves effortlessly between different facets: she is bohemian traveller, artist and partying hedonist, warm and funny but also a fierce and tenacious businesswoman. The performance continues to move thematically through the film, with Love Is The Drug acting like an aria, bringing the film to its final and most touching scenes. This is a Grace we have not seen before, someone who reminds us of what it is to dare to be truly alive.

The Happy Prince

Cast: Rupert Everett, Colin Firth, Colin Morgan
Genre: Drama
Director: Rupert Everett
Status: Completed
Synopsis: The last days of Oscar Wilde—and the ghosts that haunted them—are vividly evoked in Rupert Everett's directorial debut, The Happy Prince. Everett gives a career-best performance as Wilde, physically and emotionally embodying the literary genius as he lives out his last days in exile in Europe. His body ailing and heavy, his mind spinning, he survives by falling back on the flamboyant irony and brilliant wit that defined him. As the film travels through Wilde's final act and journeys through England, France and Italy, desire and loyalty face off, the transience of lust is laid bare, and the true riches of love are revealed.

The Heiress

Genre: Horror
Director: Chris Bell
Status: Pre-Production

Synopsis: Britain, modern day. When twentysomething Claire's mental and physical health worsen, she starts to see sinister visions in her house. Her cousin Anna, whom she lives with, is dubious at first, but finally decides to call on the local priest for counsel. Claire's parents, angered by Anna's intervention, insist Claire sees a psychiatrist instead. As the visions grow more terrifying, the priest and the psychiatrist battle each other in an effort to gain control of Claire. Her family are relieved when she's finally sectioned and medicated. But whatever was haunting the cousins' house is very real indeed, and now has free reign; furthermore its target wasn't Claire, it was Anna all along. In The Heiress we're introduced to the female entity Lillith, who has helped and hampered the family's female line for 4 generations. Charting their story from the twenties to the modern day, the women finally realise they must break free from their supernatural patron and seize back their independence. An intelligent supernatural horror focused on the centuries old conflict between religion and science.

Hurricane

Cast: Iwan Rheon, Milo Gibson, Stephanie Martini, Kristof Hadek, Marcin Dorociński
Genre: Action/Adventure
Director: David Blair
Status: Production
Synopsis: The story of the Polish fliers who found themselves fighting for the freedom of their own country in foreign skies. Seen through the eyes of Jan Zumbach, fighter ace and adventurer, it tells how the Poles, driven across Europe by the German war machine, finally made their last stand. Flying Hurricanes for the RAF over Britain, they became a key component in the legend of 'The Few'. Up against the might of the Luftwaffe they hoped that, by saving Great Britain from Nazi invasion, they were keeping the dream of a free Poland alive. In the lethal melee above England in that summer of 1940, they fought with a tenacity and skill that earned them the admiration of the whole British nation. The dogfights against superior planes cost some of the men their lives. The constant strain of gladiatorial combat took away the sanity of others. But, as Zumbach discovers as the war stutters to a close, becoming the best in the RAF is a hollow victory for the Poles. Hurricane shows how, even in a man's finest hour, cynical political manoeuvrings can destroy his hopes, strip away his dignity and lead him to a very dark place indeed.

I Am Not A Witch

Cast: Margaret Mulubwa, Henry Phiri, Nancy Mulilo
Genre: Fantasy
Director: Rungano Nyoni
Status: Completed

Synopsis: Part magic realist fable and part gendered social critique, Rungano Nyoni's debut feature focuses on a young girl who is banished from her village in Zambia and sent to a camp for exiled witches. In her striking and assured debut feature, I am not a Witch, Rungano Nyoni upends all conventions of onscreen sorcery, offering a fresh cinematic vision that will haunt the audience long after the film's final moments. When nine-year-old Shula (the subdued but unforgettable Margaret Mulubwa) is accused of witchcraft, she is sent away to a "witch camp" to live in abysmal conditions alongside other women who've been exiled in order to be forgotten. As is the custom, Shula is fitted with a spindle on her back, from which a long white ribbon runs: a "security measure" to ensure she won't fly off. On her first night in the camp she's told she may cut the ribbon, but doing so will turn her into a goat. Faced with this non-choice (Nyoni's scathing satire of patriarchal control runs throughout), Shula remains tethered — to the camp, its exploitative manager, and a cruelly unjust world. With its narrative ellipses and achingly beautiful cinematography (shot by Embrace of the Serpent's David Gallego), I am not a Witch blurs the lines between reality and surrealism, fable and fact. It also marks the emergence of an unmissable new talent.

King Arthur: Excalibur Rising

Cast: Annes Elwy, Adam Byard, Gavin Swift, Kerry Joy Stewart
Genre: Epic
Director: Antony Smith
Status: Completed

Synopsis: In the year 520AD, during the bloody battle of Camlann, King Arthur - aided by his legendary sword Excalibur - lands a fatal blow by his traitor son Mordred. Arthur's dying wish to his loyal knight Sir Bedivere is to return Excalibur, the source of his powers, to the 'Lady in the Lake'.

Nineteen years later, Sir Bedivere finds himself in jail after trying to free Arthur's son Owain from the town guards when he is caught stealing. Unaware of his heritage, Owain learns his true identity during his imprisonment with Sir Bevidere. Meanwhile, his wicked brother Mordred has falsely claimed the throne.

When Owain attempts to expose Mordred, he is brutally attacked, and left for dead thrown into the lake, the resting place of Excalibur. The power of the magical sword recognises him as the son of Arthur and heals him, sending Owain back on his quest for justice. Being the only one capable of pulling Excalibur from the ground, he becomes the true King.

The Land Of Sometimes

Cast: Ewan McGregor, Helena Bonham Carter, Terry Jones, David Walliams, Ruby Turner
Genre: Animation
Director: Leon Joosen
Status: Production

Synopsis: An animated feature film based upon the critically acclaimed audio book (voted as one of the Top Ten audio books by The Independent, along with The Gruffalo, Matilda and The Wizard of Oz). The story follows the journey of Elise and Alfie, a young brother and sister who constantly keep wishing for more, until the night before Christmas when the strange and mysterious Wish Collector appears and whisk them off to The Land of Sometimes, where all their wishes can come true.

But in this magical, Alice in Wonderland type world, their wishes are the last thing they want as they have to journey and endure the various seasons of the island, and the unique characters who live there. With stunning and mesmerising songs intertwined with this magical journey of discovery, they soon realise that true happiness comes from the things they already have and not those things they wish for. The Land of Sometimes is a magical musical adventure for the whole family.

Mandela's Children

Genre: Documentary
Director: Kemal Akhtar
Status: Post-Production

Synopsis: To some he was known as 'The Black Pimpernel' or 'terrorist'. For years he was 'Prisoner 46664', and latterly, 'President' of a liberated nation. To some he's known as 'The Father of Africa' and all free countries, and to twenty three people he's just 'Grandfather'. This is the true story of the greatest political figure of the 20th Century - Nelson Mandela - revealed in his own words, with his beloved family by his side. Exclusively featuring Mr Mandela's last ever recorded interviews; it is a revealing portrait of an iconic man who is humble, reflective, warm and open.

Mr Mandela's story is told using his last to-camera interviews, uniquely featuring questions posed by his own family, archive footage, and breakthrough documentary techniques. Even in his final days, his thoughts on the growth of his beloved South Africa, political life and the development of the anti apartheid movement remain captivating. Time may temper his frame, but it hasn't drowned the strength of his voice.

The Marker

Cast: Frederick Schmidt, Ana Ularu, John Hannah
Genre: Thriller
Director: Justin Edgar
Status: Completed

Synopsis: The Marker is a British redemption thriller following underworld criminal Marley as he struggles to overcome his feelings of grief and guilt after killing a young mother. Marley is asked to identify the body of his estranged junkie mother. Later, in a fragile emotional state, he encounters a Romanian woman called Ana and her 9 year old daughter Cristina. During a confrontation over an unpaid debt he accidentally kills Ana. Marley goes to jail for manslaughter but soon realises that Ana has returned as a manifestation of his guilt. Eventually they forge an uneasy truce on the understanding that he will take care of Cristina upon his release. By the time Marley is released, Cristina is a teenager. He discovers that she has been absorbed into a dark world of corruption and people trafficking. He must use his criminal skills and knowledge of the brutal underworld to track her down. This is a redemption story of the deepest, darkest noir in the territory of UN PROPHÈTE or BIUTIFUL with some breathtaking twists and action scenes.

Mum's List

Cast: Rafe Spall, Emilia Fox, Elaine Cassidy
Genre: Drama
Director: Niall Johnson
Status: Completed
Synopsis: A beautiful and heart-breaking movie based on the international best-selling book, MUM'S LIST tells the true story of Singe Greene, who had to deal with the tragic loss to cancer of Kate, his wife and mother of his two children. St. John Greene ('Singe') never planned to write a book, let alone one like MUM'S LIST. An adventure-loving outdoor sports trainer, he met his future wife, Kate, when they were both teenagers, and they'd been together for more than twenty blissful years. Their perfect world crumbled when their first son Reef, was given a terrifying cancer diagnosis at just eighteen months old. With only a 6% chance of survival, doctors gave him mere days to live. Miraculously, Reef pulled through (and remains healthy to this day). But then, just as things were getting back to normal, Kate was diagnosed with an incurable breast cancer. For Kate, nothing was as important as the happiness and well-being of her family. With Singe she spent hours talking and crying about her hopes and dreams for her family—ones she would now never see realised. Over her last few days she created 'Mum's List', writing her thoughts and wishes and memories down, to help the man she loved create the best life possible for their sons after she was gone. Written on scraps of paper or sent as text messages, day and night, the list captured her passionate nature, her free spirit, her sense of humour, and her undying love for her family. Some entries were instructions...some, observations...others, memories to be kept alive forever. All of them, a memorial to the woman being forced to say goodbye.

Synopsis:	In 9th century Britain, Orlath, a beautiful young Anglo Saxon, lives peacefully amongst the monks. Her world is turned upside down when the monastery is attacked by a group of deadly Vikings in search of mysterious scrolls. Learning from her guardian that she is destined for greatness and that the Vikings are in fact after her, Orlath is forced to flee. In her bid for solace she meets a lone wounded Viking called Sven, the son of the savage King Afarr. In the midst of their quest for safety they form an unlikely alliance.
	Having accidentally slain his brother, Sven is also on the run from his vengeful father. Our two heroes race across the land fighting off enemies side by side. When King Afarr learns that Orlath holds the key to finding the seven sacred scrolls, he mercilessly unleashes all his warriors on them.
	Will Orlath and Sven escape with their lives or will violence and greed prevail?

Synopsis:	With his magnetic presence, Nureyev emerged as ballet's most famous star, a wild and beautiful dancer limited by the world of 1950s Leningrad. His flirtation with Western artists and ideas led him into a high-stakes game of cat and mouse with the KGB. Director Ralph Fiennes will capture the raw physicality and brilliance of Nureyev, while David Hare's tight script offers a thrilling insight into his dangerous defection, masterminded by the dancer's great friend, 21-year-old Parisian Clara Saint. In a captivating finale at Le Bourget airport in Paris, THE WHITE CROW climaxes with Nureyev's leap to freedom, capturing a day in 1961 that stunned the world at the height of the Cold War and proved to be a pivotal moment in history.

Written By Mrs Bach: Broken Silence

Genre:	Documentary	Evolutionary Films John Adams info@evolutionaryfilms.com
Director:	Alex McCall	Market Office: UK Film Centre 1C-F22
Status:	Completed	Home Office tel: +44 20 8215 3340
Synopsis:	Over the past twenty-five years some works previously attributed to Johann Sebastian Bach have been re-attributed to other composers, barely causing a ripple in the placid waters within the classical music landscape, but when accomplished academic, musician and forensic document examiner, Professor Martin Jarvis, dares to suggest evidence exists advocating the great maestro's wife, Anna Magdalena, as a serious contender for recognition, the reaction of the Bach orthodoxy is swift and fierce, and access to key research materials is denied. This film asks why such a misogynistic attitude still persists in the twenty-first century, sets out the case for Anna Magdalena Bach and investigates the impact on the monetary value of Bach autographs in the wake of Jarvis' research.
